

Friday Faith Reflection #11 (22 May)

Now we have more freedom. Things are feeling back to normal with seeing friends and family. Enjoying going out. This time with coronavirus, makes us think and reflect - appreciate what is important in our life and be thankful. People are most important, and we should appreciate that.

God knows humans are most precious. One time when Jesus was teaching his disciples he said: Think about the flowers, and how beautiful they are. Yes, beautiful today, but then they are dried up and dead in a few days time. So beautiful, but they only last a little while. Jesus said: think about human beings. God has created you to live forever. How beautiful then are you in God's eyes, and how much he cares about you.

It is easy to become frustrated with things that happen in life like coronavirus. It shows us that we don't have all the answers, that we can't control everything.

We must remember that we are God's creation. We must not forget to be thankful to God for his love and care. We should always pray to thank God for all this gifts he has given, especially for the people in our lives, families and friends and their love.
