

3rd Sunday of Advent Prayer

St John the Baptist was given the special job or mission by God, to prepare the way for Jesus to teach and show us the Good News.

When people asked John, "Who are you?", John gave a strange answer, John said, "I am a voice crying in the wilderness."

What does that mean ?

Was John crying the same as a baby ? No!

I think what John meant was that his message/ his voice, was different, John's message was the opposite to greedy, selfish and money grabbing business people.

John encouraged people to be baptized with water as a sign that they wanted to be spiritually clean - humble, generous and kind.

Jesus has promised to be with us always;

let us pray that we may always remember that Jesus is with us; that we are never alone, no matter how we feel.

Again, let us pray for each other that Jesus will grow stronger in our hearts and minds this Christmas; so that we can show Jesus to each other by the way we live, full of love.

May we become more innocent (less selfish, more pure in heart - kind, patient, forgiving), same as a new born baby.

Thank you, Jesus! Amen!

Have a happy third Advent week!

Happy 3rd week of Advent!
