

Conversation with God in our Lockdown

Dear God,

We want to communicate and have a real conversation with you about what our lives now. We are in a lock-down for the fifth time in Melbourne. We think of Sydney people, too. Restrictions feel hard now. We get frustrated.

Yes, missing friends most of all. True, some of us can use FaceTime or Zoom, or we text. But it is not the same. We like to be with people, hug them, sit around and tell each other the news. We talk about our families, the TV programs especially the Olympics TV live this week. Cheering and jumping for Aussie sports people to win medals.

Dear God, we know you know our hearts and all we are telling you.

We know you are with us but we ask you again to be with us today and every day.

Bless our families with good lives and keep them safe. Bless all our friends and comfort them. Reassure us that we will be able to meet together when the virus is under control.

We thank you and we love you.

Amen.
